

GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES OF MYANMAR

The following list of geographical names has been compiled based mostly on maps and dictionaries. The main source of Burmese-script spellings has been No. 13 (an atlas of divisions and states of Myanmar, see the list of sources at the end of the document), source No. 10 has been used additionally when a name was not available in source No. 13. Main entries are given in the form that is used in Myanmar, with the exception of features beyond one single sovereignty and some traditional names. The spellings as found in source No. 14 are usually given as main entries, otherwise sources No. 12 and 2 have been consulted to determine the main entry form. Modern official spellings are not always known (see "Local transcription" in the next section).

The document consists of two parts.

1. Main list of toponyms, with cross-references from all name forms in Roman script. An article contains all name variants registered in the KNAB database, excluding names in languages from outside Myanmar. Additionally, Russian transcriptions of the geographical names have been included, if available.
2. List of sources provides bibliographic details of used sources, except those found on the Internet.

Additionally, the Annex lists language by language all names in non-Roman scripts (Burmese, Karen, Mon, Shan, Russian), arranged in their usual alphabetic order.

The data of the list (excluding Burmese-script forms) is also available in the online database of KNAB at <http://www.eki.ee/knab/knab.htm>.

Spelling of geographical names

In Myanmar (Burma) there is currently no national system for the romanization of Burmese names, and the spelling of geographical names varies, especially since 1989 when new spellings of several names have officially been introduced. In order to provide a better understanding of the various ways how geographical names are spelled in Roman script, the Burmese names have been grouped into four categories: standard romanization, local transcription, alternative transcription and anglicized spelling.

Standard romanization. In KNAB Burmese-language names are romanized according to the system adopted in 1970 jointly by the United States Board of Geographic Names (BGN) and the Permanent Committee on Geographical Names for British Official Use (PCGN). The system is actually based on the 1907 version of the Tables for the Transliteration of Burmese into English, published in 1908 by the Office of the Superintendent, Government Printing, Rangoon, Burma.

Burmese-script spellings in the list have been provided only next to name forms romanized in that system. However, the following deviations from standard rules are accepted, if they are based on tradition: 1) absence of sound change (ch > gy; k > g; p > b; s > z; t > d, see Note 1 of the romanization system for Burmese); 2) preservation of original consonants in consonant combinations (written one above the other in Burmese script); 3) reduction of certain syllable endings into schwa, romanized as a (this occurs mainly in penultimate syllable endings -an, and 1st tone -i and -u); 4) preservation of r (instead of y). See examples below.

Type	Burmese script	Expected romanization	Actual romanization
1)	ပန်းတနော် ငပလီ	Pandanaw Ngabali	Pantanaw Ngapali
2)	ပုပ္ဖါတောင်	Pôkpa Taung	Poppa Taung
3)	ပန်းတောင်း ရွှေတိဂုံဘုရား ပုသိမ်	Pandaung Shwedigôn Buya Puthein	Padaung Shwedagôn Paya Pathein
4)	ရသေ့တောင်	Yathedaung	Rathedaung

Letters with diacritical marks (è, ô) have been preserved if in accordance with standard romanization. In actual usage diacritics may often be absent.

Local transcription. Increasingly since 1989 new official spellings of names have been introduced in English-language documents in Myanmar. These are attempts to indicate the pronunciation of names by using the conventions of the English orthography. Although there are no officially published rules for rendering names in the new spelling, the following features are characteristic to it, in comparison with the standard romanization described above: 1) complete absence of sound change, i.e. preservation of the consonants ch, k, ky, p, s, t between vowels or a nasal and a vowel; 2) indication of aspirated consonants (hk, hp, ht; sometimes also kh and ph); 3) substitution of syllable endings -aing and -ôn (pronounced [āi], [oū]) by -ine and -one, respectively; 4) indication of ျ by -ar (pronounced [a]); 5) indication of short [a] by u; 6) use of -nn in short syllables ending in n; 7) indication of the sounds [e] by ay or a, and [i] by y (esp. in word-endings). See examples below.

Type	Burmese script	Standard romanization	New official spelling
1)	ကျည်တောင်ကန် ဆင်ဖြူကျွန်း	Kyidaunggan Sinbyugyun	Kyitaungkan Sinpyukyun
2)	ထန်းတပင် ဆိပ်ဖြူ စခန်းသစ်	Tandabin Seikpyu Saganthit	Htantapin Seikhpyu Sakhanthit
3)	မော်လမြိုင် လှိုင်းဘွဲ့ ကတုံးပေါ်	Mawlamyaing Hlaingbwè Kadônbow	Mawlamyine Hlinebwe Katonepaw
4)	မြန်မာ	Myanma	Myanmar
5)	ကင်းတပ်	Kindat	Kintut
6)	ချင်းတွင်း	Chindwin	Chindwinn
7)	ဧရာဝတီ ပဲခူး ရေဖြူ	Eyawadi Pègu Yebyu	Ayeyarwady Bago Yaphu

It should be emphasized that these are not rules but only characteristic features that are applied inconsistently. Already examples above show various transcriptions of ဖြူ (pyu, hpyu, phu), etc. Some new spellings that are used in a map of 1998 (source No. 12) do not occur in that of 2002 (source No. 14, actual year of publication is not known), and vice versa.

Alternative transcription. This is found in source No. 19. The system used there reflects Burmese original spelling and pronunciation much more faithfully than the standard romanization.

Anglicized spelling. These are Burmese names traditionally used in an adapted form. The names in the KNAB list (see Column 3) are usually indicated as English-language names. Some examples:

Burmese script	Standard romanization	Anglicized spelling
ဟင်္သာတ	Hinthada (now official)	Henzada
မန္တလေး	Mandale	Mandalay (now official)
မော်လမြိုင်	Mawlamyaing	Moulmein (now Mawlamyine)
တောင်ငူ	Taungngu	Toungoo (now Taungoo)

Non-Burmese names. Myanmar is a multiethnic country where approximately more than 135 languages are spoken. The principal ethnic groups are Burmese, or Burman (in official documents Bamar), Shan, Karen (Kayin), Arakan (Rakhine), Mon, Kachin, Chin, Karenni (Kayah), Wa, Palaung and Naga. The Union of Myanmar is divided into 7 divisions (Burmese) and 7 states (Arakan, Chin, Kachin, Karen, Kayah, Mon, Shan), in recent years some forms of special administrative units have been created also for smaller peoples (Danu, Kokant, Palaung, Pa-oh, Wa in Shan State, Naga in Sagaing Division) but information on these changes is scarce.

In maps and gazetteers of Myanmar (Burma) many toponyms of non-Burmese areas have been rendered directly in their local form already before the independence in 1948. Particularly Kachin and Shan names have been well represented, for Shan names a romanization system was devised in 1892.

In the KNAB list below names of minority languages have been taken from various sources, mainly dictionaries and maps. Shan names are romanized as they are traditionally used but some names have been re-romanized if original-script name forms (in the new Shan orthography) have been available. For Mon names a provisional romanization system, resembling that of Burmese or Shan, has been devised in KNAB. For Kachin, Chin and Karenni that are written (mainly) in Roman script the spellings have been taken from maps, assuming that they reflect properly the phonology of the original names (but this is not always the case as there is considerable variation in spelling geographical names on Internet sites devoted to these languages). For Karen (S'gaw and Pwo) that is written in a script close to Burmese, there have been no available sources giving the original names. Several names outside the 7 states are also traditionally spelled in a manner that obviously reflects local usage, rather than Burmese pronunciation; these are indicated by the label loc (local, unspecified language).

Interpretation of entries

Example (elements below are numbered for reference purposes):

① Ayadaw အရာတော် ② my ③ [13; 14] ④ (a2, p0) ⑤ 01 ⑥ :22°17'N-95°27'E; ⑦ Аядо ru [9]

① Name. Spelled in romanization and in the original-script form if that has been available. Romanization tables are published separately (see <http://www.eki.ee/knab/kblatyl2.htm> for Burmese, Mon and Shan). Glossary of words frequent in geographical names:

aing အိုင် - pond, lake angu အူ - cape

② Language and other labels. ISO 639 codes are used where possible, KNAB codes contain 4 or more characters:

Eur – in several European languages

bn – Bengali

bo – Tibetan chin – Chin

en – English

fr – French

hi – Hindi

kac – Kachin

kar – Karen

karS – Karen (S'gaw)

kaya – Kaya

loc – local (unspecified) language

mni – Manipuri

mony – Mon

my – Burmese

ru – Russian

shn – Shan

th – Thai

zh – Chinese

Other labels specify if the name is currently used, outdated, provide information on spelling or grammatical details, etc.:

"adj – adjectival form

∇ – alternative transcription

⊠ – colloquial name

¡ – erroneous name form

⌘ – historical name

f – local pronunciation

ℒ – local transcription

"m – masculine

≈ – name not clearly legible in a source

¿ – not sure if the name of the same feature

‡ – obsolete name

§ – official name

≡ – parallel name

⊠ – rarely used

:: – supposed name form

* – unofficial name

!! – wrongly located name

③ Source of the name.

Source number and the page number(s) (after a colon), if appropriate. Additional symbols that may be used after the source number: # the name is given as secondary (i.e. not the first) name form in a source; ~ the KNAB entry has been slightly orthographically modified (this applies mainly to the use of capital or small initials, the use of a hyphen, etc; if a name form contains diacritical marks, then ~ often indicates that these were absent in the source). For source numbers see the list at the end of the document.

④ Type of the feature. KNAB codes are used, with some extensions to cover specific types:

a01 – independent country

a1py – state (in Myanmar)

a1ta – division

a2 – district

a2di – special division

a2ds – special district

h1 – sea

h2 – lake, reservoir

h31 – sound, strait

h32 – bay, gulf

h4 – river, stream

o1 – mountain

o1" – mountains

o11 – ridge, mountain range

o14 – plateau

o2 – valley o21 – pass

p0 – populated place

p100 – capital

p31 – locality

r1 – island

r1" – islands

r11 – reef r21 – cape

r5 – historic region

x22 – architectural monument

⑤ Administrative unit(s) where the feature is situated in. ISO 3166 codes are used:

CN – China

IN – India

KH – Cambodia

LA – Laos

MM – Myanmar

TH – Thailand

VN – Viet Nam

01 – Sagaing Division

02 – Bago Division

03 – Magway Division

04 – Mandalay Division

05 – Tanintharyi Division

06 – Yangon Division

07 – Ayeyarwady Division

11 – Kachin State

12 – Kayah State

13 – Kayin State

14 – Chin State

15 – Mon State

16 – Rakhine State

17 – Shan State

⑥ Geographical coordinates of the feature. The coordinates have been taken from the GEOnet Names Server (see source No. 2 in the list at the end). If a feature has not been located, a question mark is inserted. For administrative divisions and states this field may contain the name of the administrative capital of the unit.

⑦ Other name variants from different sources and in different languages.
